2020 AAAP Mentorship Program Call for Participants

The AAAP Membership Committee is pleased to announce the 4th annual AAAP Mentorship Program! If you are interested in participating in this program, please send the requested details below to Dr. Andrea Zedek at zedekconsulting@gmail.com by December 13th. If you have participated in the program in a previous year, you are welcome to participate again with a different mentor or mentee. If you would like to keep the same mentor/mentee as last year, that is OK as long as both parties agree

For Students and New Graduates (Mentees), please send:

1. Vet school and/or graduate school attending and likely year of graduation (or school and year graduated from)
2. Segment of the industry you are interested in (or work in)
3. List of poultry meetings you plan to attend in 2020

SubscribePast IssuesTranslate ▼

meeting at the annual AAAP meeting or another poultry conference (if possible). It is not required that the mentee attend a 2020 poultry conference, however, you will get more from the experience if you are able to meet your mentor in person.

For AAAP Members (Mentors), please send:

1. Preferred contact email
2. Career focus (to match up mentees with their interest)
3. List of meetings you plan to attend in 2020 (to match up with mentees)

Mentor responsibilities include meeting your mentee in person at the AAAP annual meeting or another poultry conference, answering questions regarding the poultry industry and poultry careers, and helping your mentee make professional contacts at meetings.

Mentors should be AAAP members who have been in the industry at least 5 years

Remember to Renew Your AAAP and AVMA Membership for 2020!

Come visit the AAAP booth in the Exhibition Hall to learn more about the association and enter to win an Avian Diseases Manual 8th ed! If you are interested in helping run the booth at SAVMA, please contact the AAAP office at: aaap@aaap.info

AAAP Bylaws Revision Passes

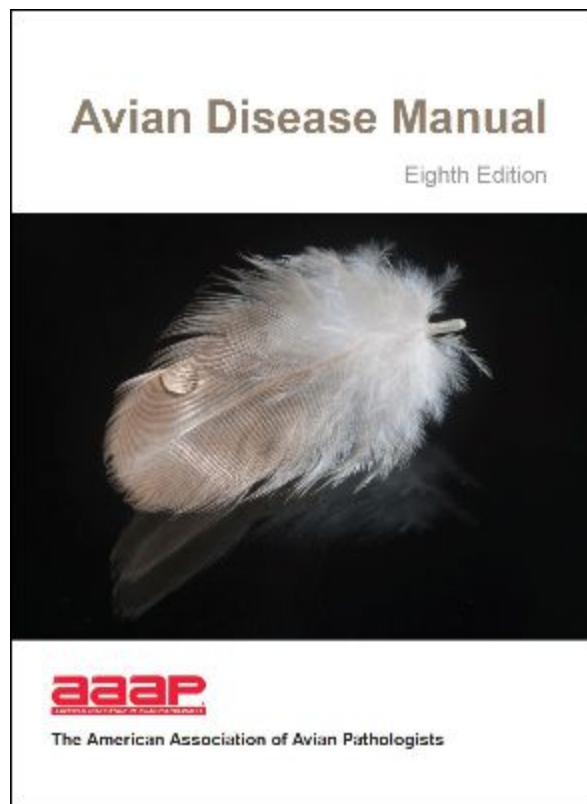

AAAP Membership recently voted on a major revision of the Bylaws of the organization. The revisions passed and are now the governing document of the organization. The website and other functions will be updated in the coming months to reflect these changes, namely a restructuring of membership types and districts.

Meeting Decision

Thank you to everyone who attended the 2019 AAAP Business meeting. For those of you who could not make it, there were two items of special significance discussed: the bylaws revisions which you can read above, and the prospect of meeting outside of AVMA in 2021. During the business meeting it was resolved that meeting outside of AVMA would be tabled for future consideration. The Board of Directors may still bring future proposals to the membership but the 2021 meeting will be in conjunction with AVMA as usual.

New Avian Disease Manual 8th Edition

The next edition of the Avian Disease Manual is just around the corner. Look out for an email announcement this year to purchase the new edition. Thank you to everyone who volunteered their time to make this great publication.

session will include break-out sessions that concentrate on a certain type of writing and presentation based on the audience. The afternoon session will cover a compilation of case reports presented by various speakers.

Morning Session:

The morning session will start with a presentation intended to provide an overview of the 'academic bones' of technical writing and then break out into three different sessions.

Various speaker/facilitators will be sought who can focus on Writing/presenting for a commercial audience—technical writing/presentation geared for allied industry veterinarians who will be delivering information to veterinarians or nutritionists.

Writing/presenting for a customer audience—technical writing/presentation geared for allied or veterinary staff delivering data/information to non-veterinarians.

Writing/presenting for an academic/peer reviewed publication and veterinary professional type of audience.

The morning session will finish with a talk on how to critically evaluate written material and use it in decision making.

Afternoon Session:

The afternoon session will consist of case report presentations.
